STATE ASSEMBLIES.

Lawmakers Meet at the Various State Capitals.

EXCITING SCENES ENACTED.

Interest Taken in the Formation of Those Bodies That Will Elect United States Senators—Montana Will Elect a Democrat for Their Senatorial Representative—Other State Assemblies.

HELENA, Mon., Jan. 4.—Democrats have secured control of the organization of the house of representatives, thus practically assuring the election of a Democratic United States senator. When the twenty-five Republicans and two Populists took an adjournment Monday after the Democrats had walked out of the house, it was to meet again at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. That night and yesterday morning there were numerous conferences between the Populist members and the representatives of the two other parties.

The Republicans agreed to give the Populists all the offices in the house, any position they might want on committees, and also to pass all their bills, provided in return the Populists would vote with them on all election contests. The Populists refused to entertain any of these propositions for the reason that, as the Democrats controlled the senate, the thing they most desired, the passage of their bills through both branches of the legislature, Republicans could not give them.

The Democrats offered the speaker-ship to the Populists, the other officers to be divided between the two parties, and to pass certain measures in which the Populists are interested through both houses. In return the Populists agreed to stand by the Democrats on all political questions and the speaker-ship.

When the house met yesterday afternoon the assembly hall was packed to suffocation. Every Democrat but the sick member, Davidson, was present; also all the Republicans and the Populists.

Watkins, the Populist, who had been put in by the Republican minority Monday as temporary speaker, occupied the chair. The Republicans knew something was going to happen, but did not know exactly what. Monteith, Republican, immediately moved to adjourn until 9 p. m. This was done to test the strength of the Democrats and also because the certificate of Leech, the Republican contestant from Chouteau county, was supposed to be on its way here and would arrive about 7 p. m. The motion to adjourn was voted down by a vote of 25 for and 27 against, the Populists voting with the Democrats.

Then the Republicans began all sorts of dilatory tactics, but finally a motion to proceed to the permanent organization was carried. Democrats nominated Matthews for speaker and Republicans Lockey. The vote stood 29 for Matthews and 24 for Lockey. All the Populists and one Republican voted with the Democrats. For chief clerk the Democratic caucus nominee was elected. Then the house adjourned.

NORTH DAKOTA.

Contest for a Successor to United States Senator Casey.

BISMARCK, Jan. 4.—The chief interest in the session of the North Dakota legislature, which opened yesterday, centers in the contest for a successor to United States Senator Casey. The Republicans have a clear majority and the result hinges on the decision of the party caucuses. Caucuses for officers of the two houses were held yesterday morning; and the fact that such caucuses were held is taken to indicate that a caucus on the senatorship will follow.

This has been a matter of much doubt, the opponents of Senator Casey hoping to encompass his defeat by preventing the holding of a party caucus. It is alleged that some of those opposed to him made overtures to the Democrats and brought the matter to the attention of President-elect Cleveland. He is said to have refused to have anything to do with the preparation, saying his party could not afford to run the risk of being charged with corruption and advising the election of as clean a Republican as possible.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Two Representatives Sworn In and Only One Seat Vacant for Them.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 4.—The legislature met in biennial session yesterday. Some excitement occurred in the house when the clerk in reading the list of members inserted W. H. Andrews, Republican, from Crawford county in the place of Wilbur P. Higby, Democrat, the legality of whose election Andrews had contested.

Caleb Thompson, Republican, of Warren, was elected speaker of the house.

After the members had been sworn in it was discovered that both Andrews and Higby had gathered with the crowd and both took the oath. Higby, who was first on hand, was in the seat belonging to Crawford county. Andrews will slip into it whenever it is vacated and a merry war is promised. When both branches had organized the governor's message was read in the respective houses.

In Minnesota.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 4.—In the house an attempt was made to force an adjournment, the Republican following of A. J. Greer joining the Democrats in the move. If this had succeeded, the Democrats would have supported Greer for Speaker. The test came as soon as the organization was effected. The scheme was defeated by a vote of 63 to 49, there being three absentees, and W. H. Lee, Republican, was chosen speaker.

Nebraska Legislature.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 4.—The twenty-third session of the Nebraska legislature convened yesterday. In the senate no organization was effected. The votes were divided between the Democrats, Independent and Republican parties, with none having a majority.

In the house the Democrats and Independents combined and captured the temporary organization.

No Senatorial Contest in Missouri.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 4.—The Missouri legislature holds its meeting today. There is no senatorial contest in this state.

MEN AND WOMEN IN POLITICS.

A Meeting to Be Held in Pittsburgh to Form a New Party.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 4.—A call has been issued for men and women to meet at 163 Fourth avenue next Monday afternoon to form a new political party.

"Recognizing Almighty God as the author of civil government, the Lord Jesus Christ, the ruler of nature, and the Bible, the standard to which all human enactments should conform, and that all our people are entitled to equal rights without respect to race, color or sex. We hereby unite in calling a conference of all persons who will join in a political party for the abolition or oppression of the drink traffic in the United States and for such other moral, economic, financial and industrial reforms as are needed in the country."

Arrangements will then be made to hold a convention for western Pennsylvania in February. The call for the new party is the result of 500 signatures of prominent men and women who desire a unification of interest from adherence of other parties on the prohibition and equal suffrage platform. The nominee for the presidential chair of the new party it was stated would undoubtedly be Miss Francis Willard. The promoters of the new party are sanguine of success.

LOCOMOTIVE BOILER EXPLODES.

Two Men Killed and Two Others Seriously Injured.

MONON, Ind., Jan. 4.—The engine of the train going north from Monon to Michigan City at 11 o'clock yesterday forenoon, blew up near Francesville, killing two men and perhaps fatally scalding the third. The fireman, W. W. McCarthy, of Indianapolis, was blown into the air and dropped dead on the track.

The head brakeman, Harry Buck, had bones broken all over his body and was terribly scalded and died in an hour. Con Cavanaugh, the engineer, was terribly scalded, but may live. A farmer unloading hay about one hundred yards from where the engine burst had his wagon torn to pieces and himself badly hurt by a piece of casting from the engine.

MYSTERIOUS MURDER EXPLAINED.

A Merchant Hires Two Negroes to Assassinate His Rival.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 4.—About ten days ago R. P. Hairston, a wealthy merchant of Greene county, was assassinated and his dead body left in the road over night. Yesterday a negro named Jim Rencher was arrested, charged with the deed.

He made a full confession, declaring that he and Glover Jones, another negro, committed the murder and that they were paid $50 each by C. P. Williams for the job. Williams is a rival merchant at the little road station where Hairston lived, and between him and Hairston there was a feud. The negroes are in jail at Eutaw, and great excitement prevails there with promise of a lynching.

Black vs. Whites.

RALEIGH, Jan. 4.—Colored people of this city and vicinity passed resolutions bitterly denouncing the authorities of the new Union depot for providing separate reception apartments for white and colored. A subscription was raised with which to prosecute the case under the civil rights feature of the law. Several negroes recently attempted to force their way into the apartment set aside for white ladies and were forcibly expelled by the police. Much bitter feeling exists.

Chairman Carter Gives It Up.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Chairman Carter, of the Republican national committee, concedes the control of the senate to the Democrats after March 4. In an interview with a reporter yesterday he is quoted as not only giving up the contest in Wyoming and California but also in his own state of Montana, where he was supposed to have a personal interest in the outcome of the struggle. He said, however, that he never had any intention of becoming a candidate for the senate and had refused permission of his friends to use his name in the caucus.

One Happy, the Other is Not.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The president has commuted the sentence of W. T. White, convicted in Missouri of violating the pension laws so that it will expire on the 15th inst. He denied the application for pardon in the case of W. G. Herra, convicted in Ohio of counterfeiting.

Rich Gold Strike in Nova Scotia.

HALIFAX, N. B., Jan. 4.—Fifteen thousand dollars worth of gold has been smelted from thirty-eight tons of rock taken from the Caribon gold mine near Truro, N. S.

NEWS FROM ABROAD.

Brigandage Rapidly Spreading in Russian Poland.

MANY DEPREDACTIONS DONE.

Wealthy Land Owners' Residences Attacked and Plundered of Everything. Sometimes the Owners Are Taken and Held for Ransom—Battle with Several Bands—Other Foreign News.

VIENNA, Jan. 4.—The authorities at Warsaw are excited over the spread of brigandage in Russian Poland. The province of Radom, adjoining Russian Galicia, has recently been infested by a band of twenty brigands, led by a notorious robber chief named Julian Voyte.

These robbers grew so bold that they attacked the residence of a wealthy land owner named Vetchkorovitch, who had refused to pay them blackmail. They slaughtered the livestock found on the place, and after plundering the house, set it on fire.

Vetchkorovitch himself succeeded in escaping from the house and took refuge on the roof of a stable, where he remained unnoticed by the robbers, who did not get fire to the stable. Vetchkorovitch was badly burned in getting away from his house, and suffered greatly while in concealment.

Some of his employees carried word of the outrage to the authorities, and on the following day a force of troops went in pursuit of the brigands, who made slow progress on account of being loaded with plunder. The troops overtook the robbers in a forest when a sharp fight occurred. The robbers made a fierce resistance and wounded several of the soldiers, but the bandits were at length subdued and taken prisoners.

The troops then made their way to the abode of Voyte, the robber leader. There they found a large quantity of stolen wealth, the place being fitted up in a rich and profuse style. In the cellar of Voyte's house a peasant was found whom the robber chief was holding for ransom.

Another band of sixteen masked brigands attacked the mansion of Baron Khovokh near Alexandrovo, about sixty miles west of Warsaw. A severe conflict ensued, the baron, aided by his servants, and by peasants from the estate making a brave resistance to the banditti. Several persons were wounded on each side, but the bandits were at length repulsed.

A number of land owners in the neighborhood of Zawada have had their residences sacked by brigands who are inclined to appear where they are least expected, thus baffling the police, and leading the troops on many different marches.

UMBRIA AND THE GALLIA.

Why the Latter Did Not Assist the Former Vessel.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—The Cunard company have issued an official statement of the Gallia-Umbria incident. In this statement Captain Ferguson, of the Gallia, says that when his steamer approached the Umbria he saw a steamer lying in proximity to her, but blowing off steam. The Umbria was lying like a duck in the water and formed a perfect picture of security, while the Gallia was rolling heavily.

On reading the signal "Shaft broken," Captain Ferguson consulted with his chief engineer. The latter officer knowing of the appliances on board the Umbria and being intimately acquainted with Chief Engineer Tomlinson, as was also Captain Ferguson himself, the latter having sailed with Chief Tomlinson in the Mediterranean service, was satisfied from the next signal "Ready to proceed tomorrow" that the Umbria was in no danger whatever, and that there were some weeks more provisions aboard for all the passengers and crew.

Captain Ferguson, the report continued, had to consider his own position. With the prospect of easterly weather leaving him an insufficient margin in his coal supply, should he, it asks, expend a considerable portion of his fuel in standing by the Umbria, for one and possibly two days?

Continuing, the report says: Captain Ferguson realized that the Umbria had been broken down since the previous Friday, yet had not about her a semblance of damage; that she was in the route of all steamers passing to and fro, and that the weather, although unfit at the moment for the transfer passengers without great risk, showed signs of moderating, and he therefore decided it was his duty to proceed and inform all westbound vessels that he met of the position of the Umbria. He signalled to a steamer within ten hours after he left the Umbria that the latter vessel was disabled and gave her the Umbria's longitude and latitude.

Captain Ferguson's preciseness in regard to bad weather coming out of the east was justified. When the Gallia was within 300 or 400 miles of the Irish coast she encountered a heavy gale from the eastward, accompanied with a high head sea. This gale delayed her twenty hours in reaching Queenstown.

Floquet Will Not Resign.

PARIS, Jan. 4.—M. Charles Floquet has authorized the correspondent of the International Telegram company to deny the truth of reports that he intended to resign the presidency of the chamber. M. Floquet added that his certain knowledge the current rumors of disagreement in the cabinet were without the slightest basis in fact.

Chief Rabbi of Jerusalem Dead.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—A dispatch from Constantinople says that the chief rabbi of Jerusalem is dead.

OUR FINANCES.

Public Debt Statement for the Month of December.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The public debt statement for December, owing to the intervening of a Sunday and a holiday, was not issued from the treasury department until yesterday afternoon. It shows that in the last month of the year there was a net increase of the debt of the United States to the amount of $10,283,80.

The items from which this increase was made up were as follows: Increase of interest-bearing debt, $100; decrease of debt bearing no interest, $771,175.50; decrease of debt on which interest has ceased, $40,970; decrease of net cash in the treasury, $1,290,330.80. On the 31st ult., the totals of the statements were: Interest-bearing debt, $586,033,080; debt on which interest has ceased, $2,885,045.20; debt bearing no interest, $377,106,627.87.

The total gold in the treasury Dec. 31 was $238,359,804.20, against $247,598,465.89 at the end of Nov. 2. Silver increased from $458,496,138.55 to $462,800,518.01. Against these deposits there were outstanding $141,347,889.60 gold certificates and $325,789,504 silver certificates. The net cash balances (surplus) in the treasury at the end of the year, $29,029,988.20. Of this amount $10,061,919.82 was in national bank depositories and $10,571,450.83 in subsidiary silver coin. The net cash balance Nov. 30 was $30,328,018.50.

The receipts and expenditures of the government for December, 1892, were greater than in the same month, 1891. The receipts were $93,212,911.10—including customs, $16,308,334.25; internal revenue, $14,843,836.27; national bank deposit fund, $145,947.50; miscellaneous, $1,914,703.08. The expenditures were $34,377,123.58. Of this amount, pensions absorbed $14,042,108.41; interest, $275,803.82; national bank redemption, $817,124; ordinary, $18,242,037.35.

In December, 1891, the receipts were $27,932,953.73 and expenditures $31,821,889.67. In the last six months of 1892 the receipts aggregated $195,853,880.82; expenditures, $195,350,614.42. In the last six months of 1891 they were $175,745,287.31 and $176,018,751.88, respectively. Of the receipts, customs dues increased from $85,722,341.83 to $100,576,327.60, and internal revenue from $77,037,281.60 to $84,613,037.36.

Payments on account of pensions increased in the last half of 1892 over those of the same period of 1891, from $61,341,327.10 to $60,433,903.73. Payments on account of interest fell off from $9,940,491 to $4,899,848. These were the most notable changes.

PINKERTONS SURPRISED.

Alleged Poisoners Arrested Where It Was Not Expected.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 4.—The arrest in Cincinnati on Monday of Anthony Guilfoyle and William Coleman, who are charged with being implicated in the alleged plot to poison the non-union men at Homestead, was wholly a surprise to the Pinkerton men in the employ of the Carnegie Steel company. They wanted to have the men indicted in Indiana or Kentucky, where the requirements of the extradition laws are much easier satisfied. Under the Ohio laws before the accused can be extradited a true bill must have been found against them.

There is now only the information before the alderman, which reads the same as the information against Dempsey, Beatty, Davidson and others who are charged with felonious assault. In the cases of Guilfoyle and Coleman it will be impossible to get through the red tape and get the papers to Cincinnati before Friday morning. In the meantime the men will have had plenty of time to get out on writs of habeas corpus.

George Champenor, a member of the Homestead advisory committee, was arrested yesterday and committed to jail. He is charged with conspiracy.

Bleeding the Chinamen.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Chinese Inspector Wicker reports to the treasury department that opposition to the Chinese exclusion act is being fomented with a view of getting money out of the Chinese. He cites a recent case in New Orleans where a Chinaman, representing himself as the agent of the Chinese Six companies, succeeded in collecting $200 from Chinamen under the pretext that it would be used to employ counsel to contest the law.

Boy Charged with Murder.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 4.—Rodgers, aged eleven years, whose trial for the killing of his playmate, James H. Stivison, aged twelve, occupied the attention of the criminal court yesterday, was acquitted by the jury. The boy, who was, perhaps, the youngest person ever arraigned in criminal court for murder, was accompanied by his mother and father, and there was a pathetic scene when the verdict was announced.

Unknown Woman Frozen to Death.

KOKOMO, Ind., Jan. 4.—An unknown woman was frozen to death in an open lot near the plate glass works at an early hour yesterday morning. Her dress showed her to be a working woman. She is about thirty years old, five feet six inches tall, light complexion, blue eyes, and blind in the left eye. She had probably wandered away from an adjoining village in a fit of insanity.

Mexico Has Presented No Claim.

CITY OF MEXICO, Jan. 4.—The best informed authorities state that no claims for damages against the United States growing out of the raids of bandits along the border have been presented to the government at Washington.

Bishop Hissel Improving.

BURLINGTON, Vt., Jan. 4.—Bishop Hissel's illness seems to have taken a favorable turn, and he is reported much better during the past two days.

BACK FOR BUSINESS.

Senators and Congressmen Again in Washington.

THE HOLIDAY RECESS ENDED.

Three Very Important Bills Pending in the Senate but Neither Will Be Acted on This Week—The Fortification Appropriation Bill May Pass the House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The senators and representatives who go home during the holiday recess rarely hasten their return to the Capitol, so there is likely to be a small attendance in both houses today when congress meets again and the seats will probably not be filled before next week.

In the senate there are indications of a struggle for place between the anti-options bill, the bill for the repeal of the purchase of silver act and the quarantine and immigration suspension bills. The first business in order will be the McGarraban bill, which comes up by unanimous consent, in the morning hour. Senator Wilson, of Iowa, and others have speeches to deliver on this subject, and they promise to occupy the morning hours during the week, greatly to the concern of the friends of the "great claimant" who realize that the bill can not long be kept in its privileged condition to the exclusion of other business.

After the ceremony today the anti-options bill will probably be taken up for further debate. Senator McPherson, before the recess, gave notice that he would call up his resolution to repeal the Sherman silver act promptly on the assembling of congress, and he can at least succeed in delivering a speech on the subject. More than that can hardly be expected at this time in view of the reluctance of Republican senators to move in the matter until a settled line of policy is adopted at the caucus soon to hold.

The immigration committee is extremely anxious to take some action on the quarantine and suspension bills, and if Mr. Washburn does not succeed in pushing his anti-option bill to a vote by Friday, the indications are that they will make a determined effort to displace that measure as the unfinished business. In this attempt they will have the support of some senators who fear the cholera, and others who fear the anti-options bill, or who want to get on with some other business.

The only business of importance likely to be transacted this week in the house is the passage of the fortification appropriation bill which is in charge of Mr. Breckinridge, of Kentucky. There is but little chance that a quorum will be present today and the appropriation bill will not be called up until Thursday. The appropriation committee expect that there will be little if any general debate upon it and that it will pass during the day.

Chairman Martin, of the invalid pensions committee, will take the earliest opportunity to call up the private pension bills which are now on the calendar of unfinished business, but he will not do so until he is convinced that there is a quorum present to vote upon them. Altogether, the remainder of the week promises to be uneventful in congress.

PITCHED BATTLE.

A Fierce and Bloody Fight in Magoffin County, Kentucky.

LOUISVILLE, Jan. 4.—The bloodiest fight in Magoffin county's history took place yesterday about one mile from Salyersville. There were eight or ten of the county's best citizens engaged on each side, armed with repeating rifles and navy pistols, and the trouble, which had its inception in a trivial matter the day before, culminated in a pitched battle. John Davis was killed by a pistol shot, and W. F. Deakins, constable, was fatally wounded.

Monteville Deakins, a justice of the peace, has not been found since the fight, but he left a bloody trail on the snow near the scene of the tragedy and is supposed to be fatally wounded. Shepherd Cole, coroner of the county, received some fearful blows with a clubbed gun and may die. Brice Patrick was shot through the bowels and is reported dying.

Reports as to who was immediately responsible for the terrible affair are conflicting, and it is not even known who fired the fatal shot.

TRIPLE TRAGEDY.

An Insane Man Commits Double Murder and Then Suicide.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 4.—Antonio Duarte, a Portuguese, keeper of the Wayside resort, near Leandro, while suffering from delirium tremens yesterday morning, went to the room of Antonio Dias, his barkeeper, whom he called upon to open the door. As Dias complied with the request Duarte shot at him, inflicting a serious injury.

Duarte then rushed into the room firing two shots at Mrs. Dias, both passing through the chest. Duarte then placed the weapon to his own head, blowing out his brains. Mrs. Dias had been shot through the lungs and there is no hope of recovery. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide in the case of Duarte, while he was temporarily insane.

Dying of Cancer.

CHARLESTOWN, Ind., Jan. 4.—William Nickles, ex-county commissioner and a prominent citizen of this place, is slowly dying of cancer of the throat.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

For Kentucky, showers in western portions; warmer; southerly winds.

Three of the leading banks at Paris report a total of only $451,697.15 individual deposits. Three of Maysville's banks have about $1,000,000 individual deposits.

The Cincinnati Times-Star, one of the leading afternoon papers of the West, commenced the New Year in its handsome new seven-story building at corner of Sixth and Walnut. May it continue to prosper.

It is high time the Legislature was getting together and completing the business before it. If members don't attend to their duties they should resign and quit drawing a salary. They are paid five dollars a day and they are expected to do something in return for it.

The last election under the viva voce system has been held in Maysville. The people are glad of it. Hereafter, a candidate will not be able to find out at the eleventh hour just how many "floaters" he needs to save him from defeat. Every citizen who has the public welfare at heart rejoices that the secret ballot will hereafter prevail.

Those policemen who are trying to hold on to their positions down at Newport should be bounced without ceremony. If the people of that city had wanted them to serve the city any longer they would have said so at the last election. The way these alleged Democrats are behaving is not calculated to do the party any good hereafter.

The Eleventh Census has been an expensive piece of business for Uncle Sam, and the end is not yet. It has cost up to date $7,260,000, and Mr. Porter now asks for an appropriation of $240,000 to carry him from the 4th of March to the end of the fiscal year. The worst thing about it, however, is that few people place much faith in the statistics he has collected.

If the receipts of the postoffice are a correct index to the business of a city—and this is generally admitted—then Maysville is getting there in right shape. Postmaster Davis announces that the sales of stamps for the quarter ending December 31st, 1892, were $3,383.45—the largest of any quarter in the history of the office, and $888.97 in excess of the same period in 1891.

What is said to be a straight tip has reached Frankfort that Senator Carlisle has decided to accept the position of Secretary of the Treasury under President Cleveland, and the same paper adds that the contest for the Senatorial succession has already commenced. The average member of the Legislature will devote more time now to this contest than to all the other important business before that body.

"The Kid."

The story of "The Kid" deals with a retired farmer, Ebenezer Newrick, who, having become a millionaire through the discovery of coal oil on his farm, is straightway brought to New York by his ambitious wife and daughters, and in his own words, "made to live like a regular swell." Contact with the gay element of the city life transformed him into a lively old boy. His wife is domineering and suspicious, and his youngest daughter, "The Kid," irrepressible and inquisitive. Consequently, when he becomes involved first with a blackmailer and then with a bevy of burlesque actresses, he is obliged to tell a series of lies to keep out of trouble. One lie necessitates another, and finally the old gentleman becomes ensnared in a network of fabrication. These troubles occur during a journey from New York to Niagara, partly for pleasure and partly to decide a love question in which the elder daughter, an advance agent and newspaper reporter are implicated. The denouement is sudden, unexpected and highly amusing, and containing as it does an element of surprise, should not be described here. Suffice it to say that the troubles of Ebenezer and the other characters involved with him are brought to a most satisfactory termination through decidedly unlooked for means.

MR. ROBERT SCHULTZ, of this city, and Miss Maggie Lantor, of Portsmouth, were married a few days ago.

New Year's eve the Mite Society of the M. E. Church, South, met at the hospitable home of J. P. Lukins and wife. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather there was a fair crowd in attendance.

Charles P. Cook, of "Kentucky University," Lexington, and Alex. M. Cook, of the Ohio Medical College, Cincinnati, sons of T. A. Cook, who have been spending the holidays with their parents, leave this week to resume their studies.

Saturday night's slumbers were disturbed at midnight by the ringing of bells, echoing the sighs of the dying year and heralding the birth of the new, mingled with the laughter and mirth of a crowd of young people who thus merrily celebrated the occasion.

The life of Mrs. Nancy Foxworthy, nee Downs, went out with the old year. She died after a lingering illness of some weeks, which originated from a stroke of paralysis. She was laid to rest Monday in the old family graveyard. Rumor says she had saved up and secreted $1,400 in a stone jug.

Great Financiers Who Tear Paper.

The propensity to tear paper into little bits is peculiar to Wall street brokers. Visitors in the Stock exchange frequently comment on the fact that the floor of the large boardroom is thickly strewn with tiny pieces of paper. Each broker carries a small memorandum pad, and as he becomes excited he tears off a page and proceeds to convert it into the largest number of infinitesimal pieces of which his fingers are capable. Some uncommonly nervous brokers will destroy two or three pads a day in this manner. Mr. Henry Clews is a tireless paper tearer. When he is talking business in his office his hands are restlessly reducing paper to snowflakes, which he throws into the air and watches with apparent interest as they scatter over the floor and the furniture. He probably tears up more paper and tears it finer than any other man in Wall street.

Mr. Jay Gould is also somewhat addicted to the habit of paper tearing, although, like his friend Russell Sage, he folds it and twists it and plays with it for quite awhile before destroying it. John H. Inman tears up a great deal of paper while talking. General Samuel Thomas not only tears it up, but frequently puts it in his mouth and chews it in an absentminded way. Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan will carefully make ribbons of a sheet of note paper while meditating upon some financial problem. Mr. John D. Rockefeller, when interested in conversation, will make figures, letters and fantastic characters on his pad. When he fills a page with characters he will tear it off, crumple it up and throw it away, and then begin on another page.—New York Times.

How a Chinaman Kills a Chicken.

One might imagine that the Chinaman who gorges himself with broiled rats and bird's nest soup would eat any kind of meat prepared in any manner, but such is not the case. John Chinaman has his religious notions about such things as well as other people. Many of the almond eyed inhabitants of Chicago are not very good Buddhists. Since coming to the city they have become apostate. But watch the orthodox Chinaman when he goes to the market for his Sunday chicken. He will not take a dead one because the probabilities are that the fellow who killed it was not a believer in Gautama and may have chopped its head off with a hatchet. His chicken must have its head on and be very much alive.

John will go to the coop and stir the feathered prisoners up with a stick. If he finds one that cackles and flutters about in a lively manner he will buy it. He has no use for a dumpy, sickly appearing fowl.

Having made a selection he takes the chicken home alive, gets out a dirty little image, kneels before it, makes some queer motions with his hands, mumbles a few words, takes from a shelf or drawer a knife with a double edged blade which is extremely sharp, and with much ceremony whacks off the head of the fowl. This done he returns to the image, and kneeling again apologizes for having committed such a wicked deed and proceeds to prepare the chicken for dinner.—Chicago Tribune.

Thomas Hardy, the novelist, has been telling something about his home and method of work. If he turns out 3,000 words in a day he thinks he has done well. He usually begins work between 10 and 11, and writes until luncheon. He has never tried the typewriter, but he writes with copying ink, duplicating his MS. by the copying press, so as always to have a second copy of his work.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

A NEW FIRM.

Mr. P. P. Parker Retires From the Oddfellows' Hall Clothing House.

The firm of Hechinger & Co., consisting of Messrs. D. Hechinger and P. P. Parker, proprietors of the Oddfellows' Hall Clothing House, was dissolved yesterday by mutual consent. Mr. Parker retires from the business.

A new firm will continue the business at the old stand. It consists of Mr. D. Hechinger, of this city, and Mr. Daniel Kiefer, of the firm of Feckheimer & Co., of Cincinnati. As may be seen by the notice elsewhere the new firm assumes all the liabilities and will collect all the accounts of the old firm.

Mr. Hechinger has long been identified with the clothing trade of this city, and is known far and near as Maysville's clothier. The firm of Feckheimer & Co., with which Mr. Kiefer has been connected, is one of the largest and most prominent in Cincinnati.

The BULLETIN bespeaks for the new firm a continuance of the liberal patronage the Oddfellows' Hall clothing establishment has always enjoyed.

The Congo tried to reach this city yesterday, but had to go to the bank at Concord.

The towboat Dave Wood, en route to Cincinnati, ran into the gorge at Charleston Bar yesterday morning, but succeeded in backing out. She returned here and is in a good harbor below Beasley's Point.

The ice gorged at Charleston Bar yesterday and by night the gorge extended up to this city. It now extends several miles above here, and there is a general freeze up. Since dark last evening the gorge has moved four or five times at this point.

WALLACE-FRIEDMAN.

A Maysville Man Takes unto Himself a Life Partner—Married at Clermontville, O.

Mr. James P. Wallace, of the well-known firm of Wallace Bros., cigar manufacturers, surprised his friends yesterday, by taking unto himself a life partner in the person of Miss Belle Friedman, of Clermontville, Clermont County, O. The marriage was quietly solemnized at the home of the bride at 2 p. m., Rev. Mr. Park officiating. Only the relatives and a few intimate friends of the couple were present. Mr. and Mrs. Wallace returned to this city last night, and will make their home with his mother on Fifth street.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. Frank Friedman, one of the wealthiest and most influential citizens of Clermont County.

A MARRIED WOMAN'S RIGHTS.

Supreme Court Decision of Importance to Ohio Property Holders.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The United States supreme court yesterday, through Justice Field, rendered a decision, in effect, that in Ohio, the separate property of a married woman could not be charged, in equity, by contracts, executed previous to the existence of that property.

The case in which the decision was based was that of Joseph A. and William E. Ankney, appellants, against Clara M. and Joseph E. Hannon, and came to the supreme court on appeal from the United States circuit court for the southern district of Ohio.

J. E. Clara and William H. Hannon issued promissory notes at Xenia, O., which Mrs. Hannon signed, with the intention, as stated in writing on each note, of making them a charge upon her separate estate, both real and personal. Mrs. Hannon possessed a small amount of property at the time the notes were made and became possessed of more later. The suit to recover the amount of the notes sought to enjoin her after-acquired separate estate, but the supreme court yesterday took the ground that the said separate estate could not be held accountable.

Suddenly Became a Raving Maniac.

MOORESVILLE, Ind., Jan. 4.—For some time David Griggs, a young man living in the east part of town, has shown symptoms of insanity, and within the past few days he became a raving maniac. Yesterday as Jabin Thompson, one of his nearest neighbors, was passing his house, Griggs rushed out and attacked him with a large knife, inflicting several wounds upon his face and head. Griggs afterward attacked a young man named Hutton with a hatchet and carving-knife, and only by strategy did Mr. Hutton succeed in escaping. The sheriff was summoned by telegraph, and by the aid of half a dozen volunteers Griggs was overpowered and removed to the county jail.

Inquiring Into the Origin of Smallpox.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 4.—The health authorities of New York are concerned about the cases of smallpox that occurred at Norwood, a suburb of Cincinnati, and which were traced to recent emigration. Secretary Probst, of the state board of health received from Health Officer Jenkins, of New York, a telegram inquiring for full details, his intention being to make a thorough investigation to ascertain whether there was any negligence on the part of the port officers.

Narrow Escape from an Awful Fate.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Jan. 4.—A defective fuse yesterday set fire to Colonel R. W. Thompson's residence, and Colonel Thompson's daughter, who is quite ill, was carried out by the firemen barely in time to prevent suffocation by smoke. Harry Thompson was also overcome by the smoke as he was making a return visit to an upper room, but he managed to reach the open air and safety. The residence was considerably damaged by the fire.

How at a Dance.

MARIETTA, O., Jan. 4.—The dance given at the armory Saturday night ended in a row which lasted an hour. Chairs and clubs were used freely. The cause of the fight was that four young bloods from Martin's Ferry, O., came down, and the Marietta boys thought they were paying too much attention to the fair sex, so they were asked to quit, with the above result. The Martin's Ferry boys proved too much for the Marietta boys.

Injured by Falling Slate.

BRAZIL, Ind., Jan. 4.—John Albion, a miner of this city, and married, was fatally injured by falling slate about 11 o'clock yesterday morning. He was at work in his room in the mine, when the treacherous roof suddenly gave way, burying him under about six tons of slate. Workmen rescued him, but he was horribly crushed about the head and chest, and several bones were broken.

Epidemic of Stealing.

ENGLISH, Ind., Jan. 4.—A dog-killing, pork-stealing and corn-stealing epidemic has struck this place. Efforts to trap the trespassers have failed. Valuable dogs are victims to arsenic, strychnine and clubs, and corn and wheat are disappearing from well-filled granaries and cribs.

Asking Damage for False Arrest.

ZANESVILLE, O., Jan. 4.—Alpheus W. Clapper yesterday evening brought suit for $10,000 damages against the Thomson & Edwards Fertilizing company, of Chicago, for false arrest, imprisonment and prosecution. Clapper was charged with embezzling $500 of defendant's money.

Blaine Better.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Mr. Blaine is said to be better by both Dr. Johnston and members of his family. At 11 o'clock the doctor had retired and the Blaine residence was closed for the night and the lights lowered. At 2 o'clock this morning Mr. Blaine was resting quietly.

Stricken with Paralysis.

HUNTINGTON, Ind., Jan. 4.—Charles Mayne, a prominent Democratic politician and well known resident, was stricken with paralysis last evening and is now in a critical condition. He is unconscious. Mayne was at one time warden of the northern penitentiary.

Bank Cashier Held Up.

FORT DODGE, Ia., Jan. 4.—A report has just been received here that the cashier of the bank of Laurens has been held up by two men while alone in the bank. The robbers got $500 that was on the counter, but did not wait to unlock the safe.

An Annihilation Defeated.

WINDSOR, Ont., Jan. 4.—Sol White, member of parliament, and well known annexationist, contested the mayoralty in this city Monday on the annexation ticket and suffered defeat.

Quebec Legislature.

MONTREAL, Jan. 4.—The Quebec legislature is called to meet for dispatch business Jan. 12.

THE IMPATIENT HUSBAND.

A man and wife sat down one day within their sitting room, And on the husband's face there was a heavy cloak of gloom; He sat and sighed and sighed and sat, but all it seemed in vain, Then moved around from chair to chair as if in mental pain. And then he spoke, "My dearest wife, how happy I would be

If I might read the paper that's delivered here for me!" His better half, whose voice betrayed mild reproach, then spoke: "My dear, how you provoke me! It has ceased to be a joke. You must be patient. Do not act as if you had a fit; You'll have your paper, darling, when the cook is through with it."

Fire Due to Combustion.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Jan. 4.—At 6:30 yesterday evening fire broke out in the polishing room on the third floor of the Fort Wayne Electric company located on Broadway. The third floor was gutted. After an hour's work the flames were gotten under control, and officials estimate the loss at $250,000 fully covered by insurance. The fire was due to spontaneous combustion.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 4.—Judge Murphy yesterday continued the Curtis trial for two weeks.
